Contractor Elpers is completing the cement walk in front of the Hughes Mercantile Company property on Main street. This stretch will add seventy five feet to the cement walks in town, and shows the spirit of the businessmen in building up the town. Several more stretches of cement walk are promised during the coming weeks, which means that visitors to the metropolis of the valley will not need wade the adobe during wet spells.

ESTANGIA VALLEY EXHIBIT DRAWS MORE MEDALS

S. W. Hightower has just received word from Prof. J. D. Tinsley, who took a part of the Dry Farming Exhibit which the Estancia Valley Farmers had at the First State Fair at Albuquerque to the Sixth International Dry Farming Congress at Colorado Springs, Colorado, in which Mr. Tinsley says that the Estancia Valley Products received four awards in competition with dry farmed products of the world. The awards were as follows:

Stock Beets, Gold Award and Blue Ribbon

Pumpkin, Gold Award and Blue Ribbon.

Mexican Bean Vines, Silver Award and Red Ribbon.

Sugar Beets, White Ribbon. These products were all grown by Mr. Hightower except the sugar beets, which exhibit included those of Mr. Hightower and J. J. Smith.

With the Estancia Valley carrying off thirty five premiums at the State Fair and four awards at the International Dry Farming Congress, there must be something doing here in the valley. If this thing keeps up much longer our farmers will need order special sized hats as those ordinarily carried by the merchants will fit like the proverbial head piece of Dick.

The Estancia Valley has the goods to prove it is the coming country and homeseekers will do well to get in on the ground floor before the price of land goes skyward. "Come on in the water's fine."

A deal was closed yesterday whereby W. B. Brown takes over the interest heretofore held by Julius Meyer in the O. K. Saloon. Mr. Brown was the first marshal of Estancia after its incorporation and has decided to lead a life in the city, having sold his farm northeast of town. J. E. Braxton, who retains his interest, will be in charge of the business.

F. S. Trimble, editor of the Mountainair Messenger, drove over last evening on business here. He was a pleasant caller at the News office. He says since learning Bursum and his methods, he is ferninst the whole thing.

OUTLOOK GOOD IN EASTERN COUNTIES

Reports as to the political situation in eastern New Mexico are beginning to come in and they are to the effect that McDonald will run thousands of votes ahead of any previous record. With overwhelming majorities in the eastern part of the state and thousands of progressive republicans working for McDonald and the Democratic ticket in the western half of New Mexico, it requires neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet to see what is going to happen to Bursum and the rest of the Republican ticket on the 7th of November.

Eagle.

With this issue the News begins its eighth year of existence. It has grown to be quite a husky youngster, able to speak for itself and command attention. During the seven years just past we have had many ups and downs, but are still on top and intend to remain there. We have never been tied to any gang and have spoken "out in frontin", whenever we saw fit to do so. We expect to continue an independent newspaper, working for the people and the valley, exposing graft and corruption when we find it, and commanding those things which are in ear opinion right and for the advancement of the valley, her people and interests. There are still a few citizens of the valley who do not belong to the News family, although this number is growing smaller all the time. We extend them an invitation to join us and help us make of the Estancia Valley not only a good place to live, but the best place to live.

Mrs. Tony Stanton and daughter, Miss Melva, returned to Willard last night after a visit here with Mrs. F. A. Chavez.

Dr. C. E. Ewing is back from his hunting trip and has a fine deer pelt as a trophy. He was so busy building a barn last evening that he didn't have time to give us the particulars.

BE SURE YOU ARE REGISTERED

Any voter who is not sure his name is on the Registration books, should see one of the members of the board at once and make certain that it is there. The books close on Saturday and every legal and qualified voter whose name is not on the list will have to make an affidavit, attested by two witnesses, before he will be allowed to vote. A word with one of the members of the board of registration will save this trouble. The books are at Brumback's office. The members of the board are: J. E. Braxton, Antonio Salazar and David Sanchez.

George Koop, a socialist speaker of Chicago, spoke in front of the Valley Hotel last evening. The meeting had not been advertised and there were very few out to hear him. From here he went to Willard.

The Democratic ticket of Torrance county is a strong one, composed of representative men, and is being well received by the voters of the county. The native candidates are among the best men of the county and are well known not only in their immediate vicinity, but in every precinct. So favorably is the ticket being received that one candidate on the Republican ticket yesterday morning conceded the election of at least one of the candidates on the Democratic ticket, saying that after canvassing one precinct he could find no one in favor of the nominee on his own ticket, but that the precinct would go almost solid for the Democrat. The concession of one man, this early in the game, will mean the election of a number of others before the campaign is over. The thinking voters are becoming tired of gang rule.

W. G. T. U. DINNFR

The W. C. T. U. held an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. J. W. Collier yesterday afternoon. The Union was to have met with Mrs. F. H. Ayers, but on account of the illness of a child, the place was changed. Arrangements were made for the serving of dinner on Tuesday, November 7, Election day, in Estancia. The exact location has not been decided as yet, but will be announced later, as also the menu. A good dinner is promised.
